A multidimensional measurement framework aligned with the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs):

WOMEN’S EMPOWERMENT and GENDER EQUALITY

The WEI evaluates women and girl’s achievement in expanding their capabilities across 5 dimensions to make choices and seize opportunities in life.

- Modern methods of contraception
- Adolescent birth rate
- Female population with completed secondary education or higher
- Female youth not in education, employment or training
- Intimate partner violence prevalence among ever-partnered women and girls

The GGPI assess the gender gap across 4 dimensions of human development

- Gender gap in fraction of life expectancy at birth spent in good health
- Gender gap in population with completed secondary education or higher
- Gender gap in youth not in education, employment or training
- Gender gap in financial account ownership
- Gender gap in labour force participation rate in households of couples with children
- Gender gap in financial account ownership
- Gender gap in share of seats held in parliament
- Gender gap in share of seats held in local government
- Gender gap in share of managerial positions held

Global Gender Parity Index (GGPI)

Education, skill-building and knowledge

- Share of seats in parliament held by women
- Share of seats in local government held by women
- Share of managerial positions held by women

Women’s Empowerment Index (WEI)

Education, skill-building and knowledge

- Female labour force participation rate in households of couples with children
- Female financial account ownership

5 of the 8 indicators selected are SDG indicators.

72% of indicators are official SDG indicators.